Google Search's guidance about AI-generated content

Send feedback

Wednesday, February 8, 2023

At Google, we've long believed in the power of AI to transform the ability to deliver helpful information. In this post, we'll share more about how AI-generated content fits into our long-standing approach to show helpful content to people on Search.

Rewarding high-quality content, however it is produced

Google's ranking systems aim to reward original, high-quality content that demonstrates qualities of what we call E-E-A-T: expertise, experience, authoritativeness, and trustworthiness. We share more about this in our How Search Works site.

Our focus on the quality of content, rather than how content is produced, is a useful guide that has helped us deliver reliable, high quality results to users for years.

For example, about 10 years ago, there were understandable concerns about a rise in mass-produced yet human-generated content. No one would have thought it reasonable for us to declare a ban on all human-generated content in response. Instead, it made more sense to improve our systems to reward quality content, as we did.

Focusing on rewarding quality content has been core to Google since we began. It continues today, including through our ranking systems designed to surface reliable information and our helpful content system. The helpful content system was introduced last year to better ensure those searching get content created primarily for people, rather than for search ranking purposes.

write me a 250 summary on the history of digital marketing. write it in the style of william shakespeare

In days of yore, when scrolls gave way to screens,
A new age dawned, with digital marketing's means.
'Twas in the latter years of the twentieth century,
The tale unfurled, a tale of great relevancy.

A humble computer, with its glowing display,
Became a portal to a world far away.
The Internet emerged, a vast, uncharted sea,
A realm of potential for all to see.

Emails were dispatched with lightning speed,
A novel method, a marketer's creed.
Then came the banners, in colors bold,
Ads on websites, a sight to behold.

Google, a titan, rose to the fore,
With search as its banner, it offered much more.
SEO, a term, on every tongue did dance,
As websites vied for a prime spot's chance.

Social media, a revolution anew,
Connectivity soared, friendships grew.
Facebook, Twitter, and more took flight,
A marketer's dream, a beacon of light.

Content reigned supreme, a king of the land,
Blogging, videos, all played a hand.

write me a google ads script that lists all landing pages on a google sheet and checks the status code on them in column b. tell me how to run this script on a routine daily. and I want an email for all pages that are 404 or other status code error.

To achieve this, you'll need to use Google Apps Script, which is a JavaScript-based language that lets you add functionality to Google Sheets. Here's a script that does what you described:

  var data = sheet.getRange("A1:A" + sheet.getLastRow()).getValues();
  var errors = [];

  for (var i = 0; i < data.length; i++) {
    var url = data[i][0];
    var response = UrlFetchApp.fetch(url);

    if (response.getResponseCode() !== 200) {
      errors.push([url, response.getResponseCode()]);
